2. ABSTRACT

DiTArtIS Work Package 4 (WP4) is dedicated to the management of training activities as defined in the proposal document (Part B, DiTArtIS, section 1.2.5.). The follow up of expert visits and short visits (Part B, DiTArtIS, section 1.2.3.) is included in the present report as well. This deliverable corresponds to month 13 as defined in the Gantt Chart (Part B, DiTArtIS, section 3.1.). The first part of the report provides the details about the first training event that took place in Cluj-Napoca during the 24th and 25th April 2023. The second part is dedicated to instruction of mentors through the implementation of a coaching course. Finally, the list of short and expert visits is provided.

3. ACTIVITIES CARRIED OUT DURING THE REPORTING PERIOD

Consortium level event 1. Training event 1.

The first training event was organized in the Technical University of Cluj-Napoca, Romania, in the specific location Dacoviciu 15, Aula Domsa during the 24th and 25th of April 2023. It was held in a hybrid way with both in-person and on-line attendees. The detailed program is provided below:

Monday 24th of April: Introduction to Artificial Intelligence

9:00-9:30	Welcome from the coordinator
9:30-10:30	AI: Challenges and opportunities for electromechanical and power systems applications - prof. Herman van der Auweraer & prof. Paula Moldenaers (KU Leuven, Belgium)
10:30-11:30	Terminology and basic concept in AI - Daniel Berger, PhD - online (Siemens Digital Industries Software, Germany)
11:30 - 12:30	From Artificial Intelligence to Deep Learning – prof. Catalin Căleanu & assoc. prof. Georgiana Simion – online (Politehnica University Timisoara, Romania)
12:30 - 14:00	Lunch
14:00-15:00	AI tools for energy flexibility (PV forecasting, aggregation, optimization, and trading based on Big Data, IoT, Machine learning/AI, and blockchain) - Dacian Jurj, PhD (RENERGIA, Cluj-Napoca, Romania)
15:00 - 15:15	Coffee break
15:15 - 16:15	Application of machine learning techniques to predict intermittent earth fault in MV distribution networks – Meysam Pashaei & assoc. prof. Mazaher Karimi (University of Vaasa, Finland)
16:15 - 16:30	Coffee break
16:30 - 17:30	Deep Learning tools for automatic diagnosis of rotating electrical machines via vibration signals – Jose E. Ruiz-Sarrio, PhD (Universitat Politècnica de València, Spain)
18.00	Dinner

Tuesday 25th of April Research Data management and open science workshop

9:30-11:00	Research Data management and open science workshop – prof. Claudia Martis (Technical University of Cluj-Napoca, Romania)
11:00 - 11:15	Coffee break
11.15-11.45	Conclusions and future events
12.00	Lunch

In addition to these attendees, several participants from the different Ditartis partners and outside were present in an on-line mode. The complete list of on-line attendees was not recorded.

Consortium level event 1. Training event 2.

The 2nd Training was held at the Typhoon HIL office, in Novi Sad, October 30-31, under the lead of Typhoon HIL Serbia (TY) and Siemens Industry Software Romania (SISW), with the support of TU/e and UPV.

The first day was focused on Digital Twins - a central concept in the digital transformation. The attendees explored the Digital Twin concept and its role from the product development to lifecycle management, including presentations about its business value as well as examples in different application areas. A hands-on demonstration to the enabling technologies was presented.

In the second day, a workshop on Management of Technology transfer & Innovation and Entrepreneurship was hosted, providing insights on the importance of technology transfer in Europe and best practice examples both from Europe and associated countries.

The event was held in a hybrid way with both in-person and on-line attendees. The detailed program is provided below:

Mentorship program – Mentor training

Goal of the program:

Raised research profile of EMD-UTC staff, namely highly skilled researchers from UTC and twinning partners (6 to 8 mentors) trained for supporting in guiding career development and integration of young researchers in research teams.

Agenda of the program:

The training was organized in six meetings with different topics of six hours each (between 9-15 CET time) in the following days: 24.03, 3.04, 4.04, 11.04, 28.04, 5.05.2023

Trainer: Maria Dofeldt

The program included 2 hours for one-on-one sessions, with a certified coach, during the days between modules.

Content:

Module 1 (day 1 and 2) To set the foundation for a coaching collaboration

After module 1 the participants get concrete tools to get started with coaching with their researchers . They learn how to create trust with the client and how to master active listening.

Module 2 (day 3 and 4) Transformation

In module 2 the participants get a number of exercises in values, talents, dreams and goals that leads to increased self-awareness.

Module 3 (day 5 and 6) Set SMART goal and Action

A presentation of different tools was introduced and practiced. In this full module the participants also learn "What makes a question powerful?" and how the coach by partnering with the client can increase the client's awareness and see new possibilities.

Supervision

The participants show that they master what they learned by a supervised coaching session in front of the group with positive feedback, learn to master the technic appreciation.

The mentors had to practice for 5 hours with at least one PhD student or with a researcher

In order to receive the certificate of participation, students must participate in all days and have the 5 hours of practice.

Records:

Positive view of humans “Hero approach”

this person:

- Is a hero (an everyday hero)
- Has dreams and visions
- Has the ability to find his or her own answers and solutions
- Has something to teach me
- Deserves to be treated with dignity and respect

Feedback:

The participants' feedback was positive. They declared they learnt how to ask powerful questions, to guide a research discussion, to approach different personalities and create an effective team. A survey was conducted among all training participants at the end of the training. The results are attached below:

The objectives of the trainig were clearly defined.
